Sport Specific Information

When and where did you begin this sport?	He took up the sport at age seven in Los Angeles, CA, United States of America.
Why this sport?	"I started when I was seven. My mum and I were at a mall, and there was a fencing demonstration there, and I was a pretty annoying kid, so she pushed me to watch it so she could go do her thing. And then I ended up really liking it. Fencing is a mix of physical and mental ability. Combined with the fact that it's a one-person sport, fencing forces you to make quick decisions and formulate strategies based on your physical skill alone. I find that aspect of fencing very appealing because I hate when people make decisions for me."
